[4/4/2013 3:01:04 PM] [REDACTED] : "Goff Corporation closed Wednesday's trading session slightly lower on the day after trading higher earlier in the session. Shares of Goff Corporation did pull back around 9% after mainly trading up for the last two weeks. Shares in Goff Corporation have now moved from 0.12 cents to the current price of 0.46 just since the middle of March, giving out potential gains of over 400%. It does look like the initial run up is over for now but considering we saw heavy volume to close on about $23 million there could still be more upside to be traded. We will continue to follow the stock throughout the week to see if it can build from here."
